Educational Philosophy

The Chicago School of Violin Making bases its instruction on developing the fundamental knowledge and skills necessary for graduates to enter the field of violin making and repair as professionals. Program emphasis is on quality hand craftsmanship in the tradition of the 17th and 18th century classical masters whose models and methods of construction are studied and utilized. Each student works on a one-to-one or small group basis with the instructors. Although instruction is individualized and mainly self-paced, students will be expected to reach the stages of achievement as outlined in the following course objectives.

Proficiency in playing a stringed instrument is vital to an understanding of sound production and design. Regardless of ability level, students must demonstrate advancement in their playing each trimester and be able to play simple classical literature upon course completion.

The school views its programs as a foundation upon which graduates will continue to build as they become employed and/or pursue advanced training. The violin making and repair field can be demanding, and students who set professional goals and are self-motivated are often those who succeed during and after their course of study at the Chicago School of Violin Making.

Course Description

The 3-year, full-time program's focus is on construction of instruments in the violin family. A minimum of six instruments are built in the 3 years; of these, two must be violins and one must be a viola. The remaining instruments are the student's choice subject to instructor approval. A cello is optional. One trimester in the third year will be devoted to the study and practice of set-up, basic instrument maintenance and repair.

Bi-weekly, 30-minute private lessons and string ensemble sessions are required and are an important aspect of the program. Previous playing experience, while helpful, is not required for admission.

Each student compiles a construction notebook from notes taken during demonstrations and lectures. Using diagrams, drawings and written notes, this notebook becomes the student's bench manual in which revisions and additions will be made throughout the 3 years. In addition, a daily log and record of work completed must be maintained by each student throughout the 3-year period.

Technical drawing is incorporated regularly into each trimester period. Students complete at least two technical drawings, one of which will be made during the final examination period.

The theory of sound production and violin design is incorporated into the construction learning process. Students are given opportunities through tours and visiting lecturers to see and hear violins made by old and modern masters. Required reading in history is supplemented by lectures and discussion.

Course Outline and Objectives

The following objectives show the expected achievement levels necessary for students to complete the minimum requirements for graduation. Admission

The school accepts students twice a year for trimesters beginning in January and September. Applications are accepted any time prior to the trimester starting date desired by the applicant. If a requested starting date is full, a qualified applicant will be accepted for the next available starting date.

Applicants must be 18 years or older and have received their high school diploma or GED.

The following skills and abilities are recommended: good hand/eye coordination, love of music, experience with hand woodworking tools, previous playing experience, and drawing / drafting experience.

A formal interview is not required for admission, but all applicants are strongly encouraged to visit the school before enrolling.

Students who have been on leave of absence due to medical, financial or personal reasons may reenter upon the approval of the Director / Instructor.

Admission is open to foreign students who meet requirements for a U.S. M-1 student visa.

The school is approved for GI Bill education benefits by the Illinois Veterans Administration.

The school is not accredited through a U.S. Department of Education recognized accrediting body.

The school does not discriminate on the basis of age, sex, race or handicapping condition in the administration of its education policies, admission policies, or other school-administrated programs. It admits all students to the rights, privileges, programs and activities generally accorded or made available at the school. However, if school administrators feel that a handicapping condition would prevent safe and successful completion of the program, the individual may be advised not to enroll.

Facilities and Equipment

The school is housed in a one-story building in Chicago's near-north suburb of Skokie, Illinois. Adequate space is available for equipment, individual work and group gatherings. Every student is assigned a work area each trimester; the organization and maintenance of this space is the student's responsibility. All students are expected to assist with light maintenance cleaning on a regular basis.

Students have access to necessary high-quality hand woodworking tools, materials and equipment. Although the school provides basic hand tools for student use, students are encouraged to begin purchasing their own tools as soon as financially feasible. Wood for all instruments except the final examination instrument is provided by the school. Set-up materials and limited tools and supplies are available for sale to students.

The school maintains a library of reference books pertaining to violins, violin making and related topics. Students have access to these materials during school hours.

Housing is not provided by the school. Out-of-town students may request information on housing and transportation prior to their arrival.

Instrument Ownership

All instruments made by a student (except the final examination instrument) are the sole property of the Chicago School of Violin Making, Inc. Upon completion of the program, the student will be given his/her first violin to keep. The final examination instrument is the student's property regardless of test results. At any point during the course, the student has the option to purchase any of his/her completed instruments. Instrument prices will be determined by the school. Any instrument not purchased by its student maker may be offered for sale to the public.

Attendance

The Chicago School of Violin Making stresses the importance of regular attendance and punctuality in the development of professional work habits. The school day begins at 8:30 A.M. and ends at 3:30 P.M. There will be a 45-minute lunch break each day as well as a 15-minute break each morning and afternoon. Students are expected to remain in the school building for the duration of the school day taking only scheduled lunch and breaks.

Attendance (absence and tardiness) will be recorded daily by the instructors. At the end of each trimester and before the beginning of the next consecutive trimester, attendance totals (number days absent, number days tardy) will be recorded on each student's Permanent Record.

Tardiness is considered one 1/2-day absence. When a student has reached a total of seven (7) absences in one trimester, he/she will receive a written Notice of Excessive Absence. This notice will be signed by the student and placed in his/her student file; this is a notice only and does not constitute any change in enrollment status.

If a student reaches a total of twenty (20) absences (excused or unexcused) in one trimester, he/she will be required to participate in an interview with the Director / Instructor to determine continuing status.

A total of thirty (30) absences (excused or unexcused) in one trimester, will result in dismissal from the program.

Before the start date of the six-week graduation exam in the ninth (final) trimester, each student's total number of absences will be tallied. If a student has missed more than sixty-five (65) days due to absence or tardiness, the student will not be permitted to graduate as scheduled and will be required to complete an additional trimester of study at the full tuition rate. Also, during a student's final trimester, a student may not exceed ten (10) absences prior to the start date of the graduation exam. Students exceeding ten (10) absences in the final trimester will not be permitted to take the graduation exam. If a student must miss over ten (10) consecutive days for personal emergency or medical reasons, he/she must request Emergency or Medical Leave.

Unexplained absence of over ten (10) consecutive days in one trimester constitutes notice of cancellation, and the student will no longer be enrolled in the course.

The student is to notify the school by 10:00 A.M. if he/she will be absent that day.

*GI Bill attendance requirements are outlined on page 11

Conduct

Creating excessive disturbances will not be tolerated; two written warnings will be given prior to expulsion. Consideration for re-admission will be at the discretion of the Director / Instructor.

Health and Safety

Open shoes such as sandals will not be permitted; this is for the student's protection in case a sharp tool is dropped. A shop apron of sturdy material should be worn in class and long hair should be tied back.

The power tools (drill press and band saw) are for student use only after successful completion of a short course and exam on power tool usage and safety. This will be given during the trimester in which the student starts scroll-making. Safety glasses (provided) must be worn when using power tools. Students may wish to provide their own dust mask and hearing protection for certain power tool operations.

The Chicago School of Violin Making, Inc. carries general liability insurance as required by the Illinois Board of Higher Education. The school does not provide health insurance for enrolled students. If a student requires treatment or hospitalization for non-liability injury or illness, it is the student's responsibility to pay for treatment. Smoking is not permitted in the school building at any time.

Grading

All student work will be monitored and evaluated on a continuous basis. Good attitude and careful workmanship are very important. However, technical skill level and ability to complete objectives as listed in the course outline will constitute the major portion of each trimester's grades.

Students will have an oral evaluation with a Director / Instructor at least once each trimester.

At that time, students will be graded in each of four categories: workmanship, theory, history and musicianship.

Grading is based on the following scale:

A - Excellent

C - Average

F - Failing (Below minimum standards)

Grades will be recorded on a transcript as part of each student's Permanent Record. Student records and transcripts are maintained electronically and on paper at the school. These are available to students and graduates for a nominal fee. Requests for copies can be made by contacting to the school directly.

Students receiving one or more failing grades will be placed on probation for the following trimester. Without visible improvement or a strong effort toward improvement, students on probation may be dismissed from the program.

Students falling significantly behind work outlined each trimester may be advised to take an additional trimester in order to complete the requirements for graduation. Students needing more than one additional trimester to complete the course or whose workmanship grade remains below average for two consecutive trimesters may be advised to reconsider vocational goals or may, at the discretion of the Director / Instructor, be dismissed from the program.

Students are encouraged to work outside of school either at home or, if possible, in a shop setting. While students are not graded on work done outside of school, and none is required, additional work is very important for reinforcing and expanding skills learned in school and for increasing confidence and speed.

Placement

Although the school has no formal placement services, graduates should not have difficulty finding suitable employment in the United States or abroad. The school receives numerous requests and job notices throughout the year from violin shops and makers; this information is made available to all students. Because of the school's excellent reputation, graduates are primary candidates for these positions.

Student Complaints

Concerns or complaints should be brought to the attention of faculty or staff either in person or in writing. If an issue is not resolved to the student's satisfaction, the student may contact the Illinois Board of Higher Education, Division of Private Business and Vocational Schools, 1 North State Capitol Plaza, Suite 333, Springfield, Illinois 62701-1377, <http://complaints.ibhe.org/>. A notice to students from the Illinois Board of Higher Education is posted on the school bulletin board at all times.

Veterans who have complaints about the quality of training or administration of veterans' benefits provided by this school are encouraged to share their concerns with Chicago School of Violin Making school officials. Veterans can also contact the Illinois State Approving Agency for Veterans benefits at (312) 814-2460.

Tuition and Fees

All payments to the school must be made in U.S. dollars.

Application for Enrollment fee is $40.00 for applicants residing in the U.S. and $90.00 for foreign applicants.

Tuition cost is $3,760 per trimester and is payable in full at the beginning of each trimester or in monthly installments of $940. This cost includes a $100.00 deposit paid towards the following trimester. First trimester students pay a tuition deposit of $100.00 and a one-time registration fee of $100.00 with the submission of the Enrollment Agreement prior to the trimester starting date.

Other Expenses

Hand tools are available to students during school hours; tools that cannot be shared must be purchased and can range from $50.00 - $150.00. It is strongly recommended that students begin to acquire high quality, often-used tools as soon as possible. A pre-selected tool "kit" can be purchased from the school for $440.00; this includes basic tools used during the first weeks of class. The purchase of a block plane prior to the first day of class is also recommended.

The student provides his/her own wood and set-up materials for the sixth instrument (final examination instrument). These can be purchased from the school or other supplier and can range from $125.00 - $300.00 for a violin.

GI Bill Addendum

Purpose of Addendum

This document is an addendum to the Academic Catalog of the Chicago School of Violin Making. Its contents apply only to students who are attending the school with assistance from US Federal Veterans' Benefits. All other sections/wording of the school catalog remain in effect.

*Graduation Requirements

A student who received GI Bill benefits must maintain a minimum 75% attendance and Average(C) grade completion for each trimester. Upon successful completion of the program, graduating students will receive a diploma certifying completion of the course.

Attendance

A student who receives GI Bill benefits must maintain a minimum 75% attendance each trimester. Students failing to do so will be placed on probation for the next trimester. If the student exceeds the 75% attendance requirement during the probationary trimester, the student will be terminated from the GI Bill program.

Grading and Progress Requirements

Students receiving GI Bill benefits are required to demonstrate satisfactory academic progress by maintaining a minimum grade average of C (Average) each trimester. Those falling below average will be placed on probation for the next trimester. The school will reevaluate a student's progress at the conclusion of the probationary trimester. If it is determined at the evaluation that the student is meeting the attendance and academic progress requirements, the student will no longer be on probation. If the student fails to meet these requirements, he/she will be terminated from the GI Bill program

The school, however, may grant a second probationary period of one additional trimester if extenuating circumstances warrant such action. At the conclusion of this second probationary period, the student will be reevaluated and removed from probation if he/she has met the attendance and academic progress requirements. If the student fails to meet either the attendance or academic progress requirements he/she will be terminated from the GI Bill program.

Credit for Previous Education and Training for Students receiving GI Bill Benefits

Credit for previous education and training experience must be evaluated and may be granted. Such a grant of credit is at the discretion of Chicago School of Violin Making. This credit will shorten the length and cost of the program proportionately. The school is required to maintain a written record of previous education and training experiences which indicates that credit has been given, where appropriate, by the school for noted experiences and provide evidence of the evaluation.
